

CORE VALUES OF EMILIO CANDEL SCHOOL

Like any community, we need to have guidelines about how we will work together, what we will be expected to do and how we will treat each other, being our aims the following ones:

We are a bilingual public School with qualified professionals for the education of our students.

We respect all faiths and religious options, not only those of our students but also those of our teachers. It's important to teach children to respect others who have a different faith. Be a positive school citizen.

We focus on the whole development of our students in order to achieve their personal fulfilment. We use an individualized and well-prepared instruction just to find solutions to our students' difficulties. Teachers will lay out a clear and consistent set of rules.

Our school aims to solve all inequalities, promote equality and promote good relations among students. We are in favour of an integrated education of male and female students in the same institution.

We try to promote the following core values: tolerance, solidarity, respect of others, non-discrimination, friendship and cooperation.

Our school develops pacifist ideals, hygiene and respect for the environment.

We pretend to integrate the world of new technologies in our teaching procedures.

We believe in a school culture that embraces healthy relationships and also we pretend to overcome conflicts through dialogue.

As far as our students are concerned, our main objectives are:

To educate for freedom and responsibility and accept responsibility for our behaviour and actions.

Equality of rights and opportunities without discrimination on any ground such as sex, race, colour, origins, beliefs...

Respect for nature and environmental conservation. A healthy environment is a clean environment

To educate in democratic values and community standards.

Integration of our students with a healthy respect for individual differences. Respect for and tolerance of each person and his/her differences are important in creating a safe school atmosphere.

To develop study and reading as a pleasure, as a means of personal growth and self-realization.

To put our emphasis on improving study habits and apply ourselves to the best of our abilities, to do the very best we can in school.

To rise an interest in learning other languages and so our students could be enlightened and educated through learning about different cultures.

To encourage and develop values such as observation, curiosity and the pleasure of learning how to learn.
